

ZAGAT

Eat This Now:

14 New Dishes to Try in San Diego

PUT SUMMER DISHES LIKE MATCHA HORCHATA SOFT SERVE AND RAINBOW RICE NOODLES ON YOUR TO-EAT LIST

Summer is in full swing, and that means new seasonal dishes are popping up all over San Diego. This season, chefs and restaurants are pulling out all the stops, showcasing the freshest ingredients and using them in amazing must-try dishes. Are any of these destined to be tried-and-true San Diego classics, like on our rundown of the city's most iconic dishes? You be the judge.

Bonfire pancakes at Farmer's Bottega

Craving a bit of a summer bonfire for breakfast? Head to this Mission Hills eatery where you can dive into marshmallow, chocolate and graham crackers served on a fat stack of pancakes. Syrup is optional.

860 W. Washington St.; 619-458-9929